What It Means To Be Treated Like Family

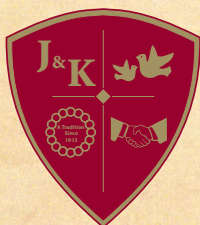

We pride ourselves in being compassionate and thorough, taking the time to listen, always being available and considering a family's needs and budget rather than a "sale".

Things to Consider

We encourage families to make informed decisions and be aware of what Service they are being provided and by whom.

- Is the funeral home locally owned and operated? Be cautious of "online" firms.
- Have you spoken with a Licensed Funeral Director? Are they willing to come to your home to speak with you?
- What will the funeral home provide in the price you are given?
- Does the funeral home make their own removals or do they use a removal service?
- Who's doing the work? You or your funeral director?
- Finally, are you being treated like family?

These are just a few items to consider when researching Cremation Services. Please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.
